

CELEBRATE MICHIGAN WEEK!

MAY 15–21, 2004

Michigan Week's 50th Anniversary 1954–2004

Celebrating Michigan's Heritage
Youth Photo Contest...
Photograph a Favorite
Michigan Historic Site

Open to all Michigan youth aged 9 to 19 as of January 1, 2004

Photo submission
deadline: April 1, 2004

Six photos taken by young people will be selected from each of Michigan's six regions to send to the State 4-H Youth Development Office at Michigan State University. All 36 photos will appear on the Michigan Department of History, Arts and Libraries Web site, and 12 of the 36 will tour Michigan beginning in May 2004.

The contest is coordinated by:

- Michigan State University Extension's 4-H Youth Development
- The Michigan Department of History, Arts and Libraries

With financial support from donations to the Michigan 4-H Foundation and the Michigan Barn Preservation Network.

Finding a Michigan Historic Site to Photograph

What is a historic site?

For this photo contest, a historic site is a building (such as a house), a structure (such as a bridge), an area (such as a neighborhood, a fairgrounds or a business district) or an object (such as a monument) that is 50 years old or older.

You can also photograph objects specifically from the 1950s such as cars, trucks, tractors, other farm machinery, kitchen and household items, clothing and toys. These are just a few examples of historic items from the 1950s that tie in with the 2004 Michigan Week 50th anniversary celebration.

If you want to photograph a historic building, try to find one that looks like it did when it was built. Try to avoid historic buildings that are now clad in vinyl or aluminum siding (unless the aluminum siding is original to the building). If you can tell that an old building has a big addition on the front of it, it probably isn't a good subject for your photo. Ask yourself: "If the people who had this structure built were standing next to me today, would they recognize their building?" If you think they would, snap the photo!

Types of historic sites found in Michigan

A few of the many types of historic sites found in Michigan follow:

- Barns and other farm buildings
- Bridges
- Business districts
- Cemeteries
- Commercial buildings
- County courthouses
- Drive-in movie theaters
- Factories
- Fairgrounds
- Firehouses
- Gas stations
- Government buildings
- Grain elevators
- Hotels and motels
- Houses
- Larger school buildings
- Libraries
- Lighthouses
- Movie theaters
- Murals
- Neighborhoods
- Objects from the 1950s (see "What Is a Historic Site?")
- One-room schools
- Parks (that is, landscapes created by people for recreational purposes such as picnic grounds, ballparks, fountains and pathways. Parks do not include natural history sites such as Tahquamenon Falls.)

- Places of worship
- Railroad depots
- Statues or public monuments
- Warehouses

Michigan historic sites

A few specific Michigan historic sites you might want to visit include:

- The Lightship Huron, docked in Port Huron's Pine Grove Park, which was "like a mobile lighthouse" and warned other vessels of shallow waters and rocky shoals in Lake Huron.
- Second Baptist Church in Detroit, which was founded in 1836 by former slaves and served as a station on the Underground Railroad.
- Gros Cap Cemetery in Mackinac County, which was a burial ground and ancient Indian settlement.
- The Gagetown Barn in Tuscola County, which is unusual for its architecture – it's round!
- McCourtie Park in Jackson County, which began as the estate of a wealthy man who owned a cement company. His home is gone now, but the 15 bridges on the property that are made of cement but sculpted to look like wood, remain.

Where can I find historic sites in my community?

You may already know of historic sites in your community. If not, or if you would like to find other historic sites in your community, use the suggestions that follow.

Check out the "Michigan Historic Sites Online" online database of the Michigan Department of History, Arts and Libraries (HAL) at <http://www.michigan.gov/hal>.

Once at the HAL site, click on "Services and Collections." Then click on "Historic Preservation," then "Michigan Historic Sites Online," then "Welcome." Once you are in Historic Sites Online, click on "Search Wizard." The Search Wizard lets you look for historic sites by:

- Site name – Such as "Big Sable" for the Big Sable Lighthouse
- Historical significance – Such as property type, theme or person
- Location – Such as street, city or county
- Designation – Such as listed in the National Register of Historic Places or has a historical marker

For instance, you might want to search for all the sites in your county. Click on Search Wizard, then Location, then County. Note: Be sure to click off Street so you can just search on County.

Visit your local library or historical museum. There may be people there who can guide you to historic sites in your community or show you photos of sites or locally published books about historic sites in your community.

Talk to other people in your community who know local history. Nearly every community is rich in informal historians.

Who can participate

All Michigan young people aged 9 to 19 as of January 1, 2004, are invited to photograph their favorite Michigan historic sites. There are three age divisions:

- Junior – For youth aged 9 to 12
- Intermediate – For youth aged 13 to 15
- Senior – For youth aged 16 to 19

What to photograph

Each entrant may submit up to two photos, which can be two different views of the same historic site or two different historic sites. The following is a list of appropriate contest subjects:

- An entire building, structure, monument or area (consider including the historical marker if there is one)
- A detail of a building, structure, monument or area

(such as a face in a monument or some fancy detail in a building)

- A remnant, such as the ruins of a deteriorating building
- Exterior and interior shots of public buildings
- Exterior shots only of private buildings. When photographing private buildings, do not go onto the property to take photos. Stay on the public right-of-way.

Include people in your photos only if they are too small, obscured or blurred to be identified. Please be respectful of all public and private Michigan historic sites.

Technical rules

The following rules cover cameras, film, discs, print size and more.

- ❑ Use a 35 mm (for black and white, color or slide film) or digital camera.
- ❑ Photographic prints must be no smaller than 3 inches by 5 inches and no larger than 8 inches by 10 inches.
- ❑ Prints must not be matted or mounted.
- ❑ If cropping is desired, draw crop lines on the print or on a photocopy of the print.
- ❑ Other than cropping, do not digitally manipulate the picture content (such as removing power lines, altering the color balance, repositioning objects or merging objects from different photos).

- ❑ Digital photos must be high resolution for best print quality. Use the highest resolution setting available on your camera when shooting. Look for settings like "best" or "super fine." If available, choose "TIFF" or "JPEG" file type with lowest compression.)
